DETAILED ACTION

Application and Claims Status

1. Applicant's preliminary amendment filed 09/27/2005 are acknowledged and entered.
2. Claims 1-15 were pending. Applicants have amended claims 1, 3-5, 7, 10, 12, and 13. No claims were added and/or cancelled. Therefore, claims 1-15 are currently pending and are under consideration in this Office Action.

Additionally, clarification is requested with regard to claim 1 wherein it is designated as being amended, yet there is no indication as where and/or what has been amended.

Priority

3. Receipt is acknowledged of papers, i.e. United Kingdom Application No. 0307320.2 filed 03/29/2003, submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

4. The information disclosure statement (IDS) filed on 08/02/2007 has been reviewed, and the references that have been considered are initialed as recorded in PTO-1449 forms.

Claim Objections

5. Claims 1-15 are objected to because of the following informalities: These claims contains reference characters in parentheses that refers to the figures of the instant specification, however, not all the reference characters are found in the figures, which result in confusion. For examples claims 1 and 8 recites the reference characters of 26, 27, and 28 that refers to power supply line, yet reference character of 28 is only found in figure 3 and 8, and reference character of 27 is only found in figure 6. Moreover, figure 6 does not depict that the display element of reference character of 2 and the first drive transistor of reference character of 22 are not in series between power supply lines of reference characters of 26 and 28 as claimed in instant claim 1 (see also instant specification pg. 11, lines 19-29). Accordingly, it is suggested that these reference characters in parentheses should be deleted. Appropriate correction is required.

Art Unit: 2629

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-3, 13, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dawson et al. (US Patent 6,229,506 B1).

For claims 1-3 and 13, Dawson et al. disclose a variety of active matrix light emitting diode (LED) pixel structure for an active matrix display (see e.g. Abstract; col. 2, lines 13-25; figs. 1-4 and 6). The active matrix display is art recognized to comprise an array of display pixels (see e.g. col. 1, lines 19-27; fig. 1). In one embodiment as illustrated figure 3, the LED pixel structure comprises four transistors (ref. #360, 365, 370, and 375), two capacitors (ref. #350 and 355), and a LED (ref. #OLED) (refers to instant claimed light emitting display element and instant claim 13) (see e.g. col. 4, lines 41-55). The transistor (ref. #375) (refers to instant claimed first driving transistor) and the LED (ref. #OLED) are connected in series between the power line (ref. #390) and data line (ref. #310) that provide both reference and data voltages (refers to instant claimed power supply lines) (see e.g. col. 4, lines 41-67; fig. 3). The capacitor (ref. #350) (refers to instant claimed second capacitor) is connected to the gate of transistor (ref. 365) (refers to instant claimed second transistor) (see e.g. fig. 3). The capacitor (ref. #355) is connected to both the transistor of reference characters 375 and 365 (refers to instant claim 2). The transistor (ref. #360) (refers to instant claimed address transistor) is connected to the data line (ref. #310) (refers to instant claimed data input line) and the select line (ref. #320) (refers to instant claimed input to the pixel) (see e.g. fig. 3).

For claim 14, the claim recites the method of using the device of instant claims 1 and 2. Here, Dawson et al. disclose the device of instant claims 1 and 2 as discussed above, and as a result does disclose the method of using the device of instant claims 1 and 2 as claimed in claim 14. See MPEP § 2114.

Therefore, the device and method of Dawson et al. do anticipate the instant claimed invention.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 4-12 and 15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
